The Bank of Reveille announces that, after careful consideration, its Board of Directors has made the difficult decision to begin winding down the Bank's operations within the Commonwealth of Redmont. This decision was not made lightly.

For more than three years, the Bank of Reveille has stood as a pillar of stability, integrity, and reliability within the Commonwealth's financial system. However, as economic conditions continue to change and the demands placed upon the Bank and its staff have reached a point that can no longer be sustainably maintained, the Directors have concluded that the time has come to begin this next chapter. There is no easy way to close something that has meant so much to so many. But if there is one thing we can say with certainty, it is this: No one could have done it like we did.

Since opening its doors on March 2, 2023, the Bank of Reveille has weathered three economic declines and two significant political attacks, emerging from each with its reputation and commitment to its clients intact. Throughout its extensive tenure within the Commonwealth's banking community, BOR maintained 100% compliance with applicable Federal and Local regulations, operated without a single scandal, and facilitated nearly $200 million in account transactions. Those numbers tell only part of our story.

The true measure of the Bank of Reveille has always been the people behind it — our clients, our directors, our staff, and everyone who placed their trust in us.

A Special Thank You

There are two individuals who deserve particular recognition as the Bank begins this transition.

Taelor — thank you for being my rock and my support throughout this journey. Running a bank is never a one-person endeavor, and your dedication, encouragement, and willingness to stand beside me through every challenge meant more than words can adequately express. You helped make the difficult days manageable and the good days even better.

Brittle — despite joining the Bank more recently, you quickly demonstrated what it means to be a reliable and faithful Director. Your commitment to the institution and its clients did not go unnoticed. Your service came at an important time, and I am incredibly grateful that you chose to be part of this organization.

To both of you: your service and dedication will forever be cherished by our clients and by me personally.

A Thank You to Our Clients

The Bank of Reveille would not have survived these past three years without the people who trusted us with their finances, their businesses, and their confidence. In recognition of our most loyal clients, the Bank will provide a one-time payment of $5,000 to each eligible client as part of our reinvestment and appreciation initiative.

This payment is our way of saying something that a press release can never fully capture:
Thank you.
Thank you for opening an account with us.
Thank you for continuing to bank with us.
Thank you for standing with the Bank through economic uncertainty, political challenges, and everything in between.
And most importantly, thank you for believing in what we were building.

For more than three years, you made the Bank of Reveille what it was. Every transaction, every account, every business relationship, and every client interaction contributed to a financial institution that became something far greater than a balance sheet or a banking service.
It became a community.

Looking Toward the Future

While the Bank of Reveille is beginning the process of winding down its operations, this announcement should not necessarily be viewed as goodbye forever.
Economic systems change. Communities change. Needs change.

If the Commonwealth of Redmont once again finds itself in need of the stability, integrity, and reliability that the Bank of Reveille has sought to provide since its founding, we may return.
Until then, we leave knowing that we accomplished what we set out to accomplish.
We built a bank that survived.
We built a bank that remained compliant.
We built a bank that served its clients.
And we built a bank that, despite everything thrown its way, never lost sight of the people it was created to serve.

To every client who has been part of this journey: thank you for the memories, thank you for the trust, and thank you for allowing us to serve you. The Bank of Reveille may be winding down its operations, but the legacy we built together will remain.

No one could have done it like we did.

With gratitude,
The Directors of the Bank of Reveille
Bank of Reveille — Integrity. Stability. Trust.
