LEVANIKO CORPORATION

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

Filed with the DemocracyCraft Department of Commerce

This Certificate of Incorporation is submitted to register the below-named corporation under the laws and procedures of the DemocracyCraft server and its Department of Commerce.

Article I — Name

The name of the corporation is Levaniko Corporation (the "Corporation").

In-game company name: Levaniko (registered in-game; lookup: /db info Levaniko). This in-game name is included in satisfaction of the Legal Entity Act, Part IV, Section 1(2)(b).

Article II — Purpose

The Corporation is organized to engage in the lawful business of energy generation, energy storage, and the supply and trade of energy on the DemocracyCraft server, together with any and all lawful activities incidental or related thereto, as permitted by the server's rules and the Department of Commerce.

Article III — Type of Firm

The Corporation is incorporated as a Corporation (not a Limited Liability Company).

Article IV — Authorized Capital Stock

The total number of shares the Corporation is authorized to issue is 200,000 shares, each with a par value of $0.01 per share, divided into two classes as follows:

Class	Shares Authorized	Votes per Share	Par Value
Class A Common (super-voting)	150,000	10 votes	$0.01
Class B Common (ordinary)	50,000	1 vote	$0.01
Total	200,000	**—	**—

Each share of every class has a par value of $0.01. Both classes are identical in all economic respects — including dividends, distributions, and proceeds on any sale, dissolution, or liquidation — and rank equally on a per-share basis. The classes differ only in voting power, as set out above.

Article V — Voting Rights

Except where the server's rules require otherwise, all matters submitted to shareholders shall be decided by a majority of the total voting power present, with Class A and Class B voting together as a single group. Each Class A share carries ten (10) votes and each Class B share carries one (1) vote.

Article VI — Issuance of Shares

No shares of any class — whether currently authorized and unissued, or newly created — may be issued, sold, or granted without the prior written approval of the holder(s) of a majority of the Class A

Common stock. This authority over issuance is reserved to protect the Corporation’s ownership structure against dilution.

Article VII — Transfer and Conversion of Class A

Class A Common stock is personal to its holder. Any Class A share that is sold, transferred, or assigned to any other person automatically converts, immediately and without further action, into one Class B Common share of equal economic value. The super-voting power of Class A therefore cannot be transferred to a third party; it remains with the founder.

Article VIII — Management

The business and affairs of the Corporation are managed by or under the direction of its Board of Directors and officers, as further described in the Corporation’s Shareholder Agreement filed alongside this Certificate.

Article IX — Dissolution and Winding Up

The Corporation may be dissolved with the approval of the Founder (or, after any transfer of Class A, the holders of a majority of the voting power), subject to any process required by the Department of Commerce. On dissolution, the Corporation’s assets shall be applied in the following order: (1) payment of the Corporation’s debts and liabilities, including any amounts owed to creditors; (2) any reserve reasonably necessary for contingent or unforeseen liabilities; and (3) distribution of the remainder to shareholders pro rata on a per-share basis, equally across Class A and Class B. The detailed dissolution procedure is set out in the Shareholder Agreement.
