And there seems to be an inconsistency in how we're applying the requirement for proving intent in certain offences. I recently saw how Gribble opened a ticket questioning a charge where intent hadn't been proven on our side and Agrari removed the charge as a result. However in other cases, we're still charging players with the same offences which also require intent without applying that same standard. This is an inconsistency I think we need to address :/

Yeah, for crimes like that they should have a standard of requiring proof of intent

calxyyy 10/17/2025 8:38:28 PM

@pricelessagrari 10/17/2025 8:37:50 PM

Yeah, for crimes like that they should have a standard of requiring proof of intent

Yeah I believe our policy needs to be amended to include this standard otherwise I think it opens us up to legal liability

pricelessagrari 10/17/2025 8:38:53 PM

<@1105046425856917514> Do you agree with this?

calxyyy 10/17/2025 8:44:31 PM

Maybe we could have a standard to prove it with certain indicators like repeated attacks on the player (in the short timeframe of the offending), the use of weapons like swords, axes, or guns to cause the harm, and maybe hostile or aggressive context in chat etc.

roryyy_is_ 10/17/2025 8:44:48 PM

You can Comet with the new law

If it's an open yard you're allowed on the property and can made arrests.

Only in enclosed residential structures are you prohibited from entering without a warrant or consent.

Server 11/18/2025 9:53:08 PM

Investigator Culls » hey rookies are we allowed to arrest on yachts?

bruinblueusdf 11/18/2025 10:38:09 PM

Culls, even if the doors are unlocked you are not allowed to enter a residential structure (apartment, house, ranch house, etc) without consent or a warrant.

For yachts... I'm not sure!

Server 11/18/2025 10:38:17 PM

Investigator Culls » damn

Investigator Culls » that's a predicament

[Rep.] Speaker Talion77 » what law prohibits us from going into houses?

bruinblueusdf 11/18/2025 10:38:58 PM

calyxyyy 12/26/2025 1:09:09 AM

<@333875185675665409> hi, why have you been creating wanted points for murder? :)
<https://discord.com/channels/684766534035439636/1036963652542156850/1453913129875673099>

This does not have to be done, murder is handled by the police plugin which automatically assigns a wanted point when the murder case is solved by detectives :)

snoozefest0860 12/26/2025 1:10:38 AM

ohhh okay, I misunderstood that i'm sorry. It will not happen again

calyxyyy 12/26/2025 1:11:23 AM

No worries! Just make sure to remove them by doing /police records on the criminal then /police recordsarchive <id from police records for the wanted point you created>

snoozefest0860 12/26/2025 1:13:42 AM

It didn't give me a id for it, it gave me an error code saying "You can't use that reason" so i'm not sure if the wanted point was created? if that makes sense

calyxyyy 12/26/2025 1:14:31 AM

@snoozefest0860 12/26/2025 1:13:42 AM

It didn't give me a id for it, it gave me an error code saying "You can't use that reason" so i'm not sure if the wanted point was created? if that makes sense

Ahh yes that's correct - the plugin automatically flags wanted point creation reasons to bar officers from creating murder wanted points :) So nothing more needs to be done here ;)

snoozefest0860 12/26/2025 1:15:10 AM
oh okay! I'm sorry again for the trouble

I think we should allow a /pursuit command that stops criminals from warping for like 5 minutes or so, but also notifies them about being pursued. (Think of the DHS pullover message). Maybe make it have a 20 minute cooldown per officer. Something that lets there be a chase can you explain how you charged, unfortunately the penalties here seem to be inconsistent with the Criminal Code Act. 😊

I charged based on the knowledge that every subsequent offense after 2 would just be $700. However now that I read the Criminal Code Act again it seems that I should've charged $700 for every charge after 2

calyxyyy 1/20/2026 11:13:12 PM

@snoozefest0860 1/20/2026 11:07:07 PM

Okay so Giibbles already has had a first offence under their criminal record for trespass, thus this second incident will fall under the second offence. (Scaling penalties apply for distinctly separate incidents, this seems to be one overall incident hence we'll only charge under the second offence penalties, subsequent would apply if we say got another report of trespass separate to this incident.) You seem to have determined x5 trespass → this would mean you charge each count under the second offence penalties, i.e. $500 \times 5 =$ a fine of 2500. As for imprisonment $5 \times 5 = 25$ minutes. :)

The freedom to choose where to work at

Yes, the policy when published will provide for that, the plan is to have a new forums page similar to the criminal record to note everything about a citizen's licence, i.e. status changes, strikes etc. The Firearms Licensing Act also modifies some criminal offences such as Mass Murder - we won't be able to enforce the "additionally, if a firearm was used..." element at this stage due to lack of ability to see what weapons were used in a murder.

The main point from the Act is what handling a firearm is: "to possess, purchase, operate, distribute, or craft that firearm." How will that be enforced? It will mostly come down to citizen reports but we'll see how it goes. :)

Police Officer Jayessar Kiwi » and like if a murder using a firearm is solved and the murderer has no license, presumably it;d be automatic for charging the relevant firearms

[Staff] Police Officer Vuda Sage » nvm was a week ago

Police Officer Jayessar Kiwi » oh shit he just messaged me saying he's in the offices in the police station again

calyxyyy 2/24/2026 8:00:58 PM

Oh well there's not much he can steal; I've locked any chests holding items and hopefully we'll be seeing him in court eventually for the suspected crimes committed yesterday.

[Staff] Police Officer Vuda Sage » yeah if hes glitching it would be

Police Officer Jayessar Kiwi » oh wait i forgot you're staff; i now feel like an idiot for making a staff ticket to snitch on him lol

Police Officer Jayessar Kiwi » please can i get authorisation to use lethal force to protect Hellside's dog

calyxyyy 2/24/2026 9:42:53 PM

The law doesn't allow that. If he hurts the dog charge him with Assault of Protected Entity. Also see if a staff ticket can be made to delete his homes in the station considering it's a restricted space.

Server 2/24/2026 9:43:46 PM

(1) For purposes of Part IV of the Criminal Code Act, "unlawful killing" means causing the death of another player when:

(a) the killed player did not have /police consent enabled at the time of death; and

(b) the killing was not justified under any of the following:

(i) lawful self-defence as defined in Section 6(11) of Part I of the Criminal Code Act;

(ii) defence of property under Castle Law as defined in Section 6(10) of Part I of the Criminal Code Act; or

(iii) the killing occurred during a government-sanctioned event where combat is an intended component of the event.

 (iv) the killing was done by an event coordinator or police officer in order to discipline event rule breakers in a government-sanctioned event. **

(2) A killing that does not meet the definition in subsection (1) is a lawful killing and does not constitute an offence under the Criminal Code Act.

They do not, the law does not consider past criminal offenses.

It only does when in regards to firearm license strikes but Roy had none on the record when the license application was reviewed.

I mean isn't it an easy way for criminals to escape now?

Maybe <:frthink:829856663024304128> I doubt it will be too large of an issue because I don't think the majority of our criminals are reading the treaty. We'll see how it pans out.

victualia 4/11/2026 2:56:10 AM

@void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 2:55:39 AM

They get a ping now?

they built an automation that pings them when revealed

it just constantly checks the map and if they appear on it, it notifies them

void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 2:56:42 AM

Bruh

People with wanted stars should be automatically and permanently revealed on map and banned from worlds without it

pricelessagrari 4/11/2026 2:57:45 AM

We should take away rights of criminals

(/j)

void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 2:58:56 AM

They should lose their elytra and morph rights

victualia 4/11/2026 3:00:05 AM

Well I wouldn't go that far, but the automation thing and teleporting to the PBW does make it almost impossible to arrest certain individuals

Such as roy

void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 3:01:58 AM

well it's basically impossible to arrest criminals if they do any one of the following:

- go to the everwild/end/nether/PBW
- use /mini and or /morph
- just put on an elytra and spam rockets
- spam /home and other tp commands
- sit in a building on a plot they own
- spam hide on maps

like just looking at this list shows how wildly unbalanced arresting criminals is savannah0176477 4/11/2026 3:03:01 AM

Well I mean

They aren't doing that 100% of the time

void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 3:03:13 AM

oh and they can also just kill you well yeah a lot of the people who just get like one or two kills don't really bother

but all of the people consistently going on murder sprees do at least one of those

victualia 4/11/2026 3:05:20 AM

I've been able to arrest people with elytra's and morph.

I've even tased one guy mid-air

xDD

void_god_azathoth 4/11/2026 3:05:50 AM

they probs just didn't know what they're doing because there's no feasible way to cuff someone flying hundreds of blocks in the air at high velocities

in fact you can't even find them and it just gets worse if they have a morph to decrease their hitbox size

victualia 4/11/2026 3:06:53 AM

But to me the problem is really:

* People who are willing to break their own gameplay experience to hide, such as by hiding in PBW literally 100% of the time.

* Automation.

<@296888315192541185> hey just wanted to give a friendly poke "Unauthorized Firearm Possession" is a sgt+ charge since the punishment usually has to be processed through a warrant <a:fax:1417150028174196796>

victualia 5/3/2026 6:20:41 PM

ah

in this case I just got them to give me the firearm lmao

snoozefest0860 5/3/2026 6:20:53 PM

just for future reference tho!

oh awesome that works too

victualia 5/3/2026 6:21:14 PM

we should look into a firearm seizing wand <:ded:1202799810319618088>

but good to know for future reference!

snoozefest0860 5/3/2026 6:21:42 PM

that'd be sick, but it could be abused so bad 😭

it'd be so fun

victualia 5/3/2026 6:22:02 PM

we already have a search wand which seemingly has no purpose

snoozefest0860 5/3/2026 6:23:37 PM

yeah it's used for WMD confiscation, but you still need sec approval to use it or a warrant <joebruh:930703635304820756>

victualia 5/3/2026 6:25:01 PM

I impounded it in IMPD #011 btw

don't know what we do with the gun after? xD
